The owner of a house in a bad hired a number of mandarin house boat. perfectly sanitary condition will of cours receive full compensation, and owners of houses unfit for human habitation but capable of being made fit will have their compensation reduced by the estimated cost ist which the house might have been rendere fit for habitation. The scheme seems fair and reasonable. At all swaats, the landivide nave no reason to complain. If there is any ground for complaint it lies with the public, who might contend that they ought not be called upon to pay apything more than unimproved value of the land except in the few cases where the house is a pariectly sunitary condition. As gards monthly tenants the Bill is perhape open to some criticism. There is not the slightest doubt in the public mind as to the levotion by which every one has been genuine ly notanted; hence there should be a general amnesty and barying of hatchets. With all respect for medical, scientide, and export spinion, it would seem decirable that we should not be too readily led to the determined adoption of any revolutionary measures, soming that the occurrence of this disease in our midst has been doubtless owing to a countination of circumstances which, in all likelihood will never be repeated. There is a most remarkable coincidence between the suprecedented drought which curred in England in 1664-1865 and that which was experienced in Bongkong in 1893 1894, aggravated by the no xpecied fallure of our stored water supply at Tytam and Pok folunt. The opinion had been very generally entertained, and apparently upon good grounds that the plague of London in 1665 bad its origin in codaverio poison emanating from unburied corpses in China, which was conveyed in bile of goods to London. There seems also every reason to believe that the plague of Hong kong was imported from Pakhoi and Hothow where the supply of water is very bad, and where the plague raged virulently before itsappearance here. It is well known that animals are affected by it, and from the indescribibly hercibia nondition in which many of the pigs for matiye grams which have been sent to Shanghai asking for consumption arrive from these places, it is more confirmation have brought replies to the effect than probable that some of these were affected, and were the means of introducing the socis a the disease. For comprehensiveness and practical service words which the Chinese have of latey ours been compalled to com to express the numerous ob jects in machinery, photography, telegraphy and in science generally, which the rapid advance of foreign relations has imposed upon them, are fully illustrated and explained, forming exercises for students of a most instructive nature. Both the Court and Punti prounciations are given principle hitherto attained. The typography displays the success of an attempt to make the Chinese and English type correspond in the size space, achieving a clustress not previously attained, and dispension with those vast margins

To illustrate the vast scope of the work the Stagen, British str., 1,054, Price, July 22, Special rates (first class only) are granted to Chalmers Vocabulary contains about 16.000 Smith Chinese steamer, 701, Merless, Jaly State of Mains, Amr sh. 1,167, Curtis, July 9, Thermonyles, Brit 5k, 948 Winehester, July Tangohow British ste, 959, Waltile, July 29. this work contains more than five times as Velox, Ger and stramer, 631.
